THE WEEK IN SOCIETY.

The fashionable season in New-York has passed its height and the social inactivity of the last fortnight denotes the general breaking up of city life for fashjonable people at least for some months to come. With the exception of a cluster of weddings on Thursday, a few dinner parties and several women's uncheons, there have not been many fashionable affairs of importance in the course of the last week, As has been the custom for some years, Decoration Day was made the most of and was enjoyed by the holiday-makers, rich and poor. Horse racing and yacht racing attracted the greatest number of perlette games, baseball matches, fishing and boating parties to Tuxedo, shooting and fishing parties to the Westchester Country Club, polo games at the country clubs on Long Island and in the Oranges, and field sports of other kinds. On Wednesday Morris Park put forth all its glories and an immense throng enjoyed its verdure, its picturesque scenery and the racing, which was good. The grand-stand and the facing, which was good, but it was not a distinctly fashionable gathering and in point of fact there was an astonishingly small number of fashionable women present. On the following day, however, when Her Royal Highness, the Infanta Eulalic, with society, and the large crowd which assembled to them off was much the same met at an afternoon reception in the height of the season. The tables in the salon were laden with flowers, and seldom have such gorgeous baskets and bunches of roses been seen. Mrs. Martin and her daughter, the Countess of Craven, came in for the greatest share. Among the other passengers were Mrs. Edwards Pierrepont, Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Ismay, Mr. and Mrs. Courtlandt Palmer, Miss Palmer, Lord Grey de Wilton, and Plunket Greene, whose voice was heard in many New-York drawingrooms last winter. Mr. and Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Square, London, where they will remain for a short time before going on to Balmacan, their place in the Scottish Highlands. Lord and Lady Craven are to be the guests of Lord Craven's mother, the Dowager Countess of Craven, who is shortly to give a series of entertainments in honor of the new Countess. Early in July Lord Craven will take his wife to Combe

Abbey, in Coventry. Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Brown, whose daughter, Miss Zulette Brown, was married on Thursday to William Y. Andrus, will sail on June 28, in the steamship Toutonic, for an extended tour in Great Britain and the Continent. They will spend some time in Carlsbad, and expect to return to New-York early

Several weddings will take place this week. Tomorrow Miss Clara Schiffer and Joseph Livingston will be married at the home of the bride's parents. Mr. and Mrs. Louis G. Schiffer, No. 10 East Sixtythird-st., and on the following day St. Paul's Church, Yonkers, will be the scene of the marriage of Miss Marion Scribner, daugeter of Mr. and Mrs. G. Hilton Scribner, to Dr. Ernest de F. Miel. Miss Lucy Cony , daughter of Joseph II. Manley, secretary Republican National Committee, will be married at Augusta, Me., on Wednesday, to Chase Mellen,

On Thursday one of the interesting weddings will be that of Miss Anne Griswold Tyng, daughter of the Rev. Dudley A. Tyng, of Philadelphia, and the Rev. George A. Bottome, a son of Mrs. Margaret Bottome, ent of the King's Daughters. The Rev. Mr. Bettome is the assistant minister at Grace Church, this city, where the ceremony will take place. The nome of the bride's parents, at Fort Washington. A double wedding will be an interesting incident of June 14, when two sisters, Miss Katherine Rogers and Miss Dolly Rogers, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. James Rogers, will be married, the first to John H. Pratt, and her sister to Dr. Y. Darwin Nagel. The ceremony will take place in St. Mary's Protestant. marriage of Miss Marion Crist to Charles Pacon Baldceremony will take place in St. Mary's Protestant scopal Church, Manhattanville, and will be folts, in the Western Boulevard. of the two brides, W. B. Rogers, C. Walter Cushler, Herbert St. John Webb, Dr. Charles Gibson and B. D. Eisler. There will be two bridesmaids for each bride, the Misses May Eogers, Blossom Rogers, May Deering and Frances Twombly. The marriage of Miss Catherine Weed Barnes, of Albany, N. Y. to Henry Snowden Ward, of London, is announced to take place on Saturday, July 15, in St. Peter's Church, in State-st. Albany.

The opening of the horse show at One-handred-and-fifty-fifth-st, and Eighth-ave, to-morrow will claim the attention of a good share of the fashionable world. Should the weather be pleasant there will no doubt be a large turning out of the men and women prominent in social circles.

The marriage of Miss Sarah Carnes Weekes to Francis Laurens Vinton Hoppin, of this city, took place quletly at 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at the country home of the bride's father, John A. Weekes, at Oyster Bay. The marriage ceremony was performed in the drawing-room where the bride's grandmother was married, by the Rev. Dr. David H. Greer, rector of St. Bartholomew's Church, Madison-ave, and Farty-fourth-st., as-sisted by the Rev. Henry H. Washbarne, of Oyster Bay. Beantiful roses and spring dowers were arranged about the different rooms, which all opened on the plazzas. The bride's dress, plainly made, was of heavy white satin, embellished with oid point lace, and her veil was of the same lace. Miss May W. Diekey, Miss Lydia Field Emmel, Miss Martha Lincoln Draper and Miss Mary B. Potter, a daughter of Bishop Potter, were the bride's attendants. They were attired in pretty gowns of bright rose-colored French muslin, and Lephorn hard dressed with pink plumes. Sammel H. Hoppin a fended his cousin as best man. The ushers were Messrs, G. F. J. King. A. D. Chapin, G. Reekman Hoppin, Henry De Jarest Weekes, brother of the bride, and Bertram G. Gordone, of Bisson. A. Wedding breakfast was served immediately after the ceremony which was attended by Elin will sail for England on June 17. Meanwhile they will visit Nlagera Falls and the World's Fair, at Chicago.

The marriage of Misa Marguerite Humbert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Pierre Hambert, of No. 6 West Filty-third-st., to Churchill satterlee, the son of the Rev. Dr. Henry Y. Satterlee, which was to take place yesterday afternoon in Calvary Church, Foartheave, and Twenty-first-st., was postponed almost at the last moment on account of the illness of the bridegroom, who is suffering from rheumatism in the rection of the heart. All preparations had been made for the wedding and until Friday evening it was thought that it would take place as affionneed. The condition of the bridegroom, however, forced a postponement, and it is not likely now that the coremony will take place for at least two weeks. Mr. Satterlee has been subject for some time to attacks of rheumatism, and the present attack was brought on through overstudy and excitement consequent on his ordination, which took place has week. Mr. Satterlee attended a dress rehearsal of his weeking on Wednesday night, when his attendants say he should have been in bed. His condition yesterday was slightly improved.

SONG OF A HOWLING REFORMER.

From The New-York Sun (Tammany Democrat). Before the election I was a ranter,
A powerful whooper-up for free trade;
I wanted the tariff busted instanter,
The cruel wrong of Protection stayed,
An outrage against the Constitution,
A robbery of the poor and weak,
I showed it up in the election;
But since election I'm on the sneak,

I piedged and promised before election
Because I had to, to get the votes;
But now I'm fuller of circumspection,
And I don't propose to pay my notes,
Ha, Ha! My speeches were full of unction,
Piping hot and glistening sleek;
I smashed the tariff without companction,
In words; but, in fact, I'm on the sneak,

What a ruction and what a rumpus
We made last fall; what a hullabaloo!
How we were going to stir and hamp us,
All for a tarif if revenue;
On Tariff Robbers our brave battalions
Perrible vengeance were to wreak,
Down with the rout of Protection rapscallions
But the cry was a fake, for we're going to shear

Promises are very easy in making,
Very much easier still to break;
Am I to blame for people's taking
That in earnest I meant for take!
Gudgeo-catching is easy, I knew it,
So I batted my hooks with cheek,
Destroy Protection! How not to do i
Is all my study; just watch me sheak

THE CASE OF DR. BRIGGS.

A TALK WITH DR. VAN DYKE.

HE DISCUSSES THE ACTION OF THE GENERAL ASSEMBLY IN SUSPENDING THE UNION SEMINARY PROFESSOR.

The Rev. Dr. Henry van Dyke, paster of the Brick Presbyterian Church in Fiftheave,, whose attitude on the Briggs question is well known, returned to this city yesterday, and talked freely on the action of the General Assembly in suspending Professor Briggs. "Personally," said Dr. van Dyke, "I cannot see how any good Presbyterian can regard it as a duty or a pleasure to say much about the late assembly. As a court of appeal within the Church, its decision in a particular case is final. There is no use of disenssing if. We can only express our amazement and sorrow that such an earnest and devout man as Dr. Briggs should be suspended from the ministry and practically forbidden to preach the gospel of Christ. Since the mediaeval methods of enforcing orthodoxy by rack and faggot have been abandoned, this is almost the severest penalty that can be inflicted upon But I believe and trust that a Christian minister.

Church is concerned, it simply does not exist. There is no reason why any one should pay any particular attention to the deliverance on the inerrancy of the original autographs of the Holy Scriptures. It does not tell us what the Holy Scriptures are. It simply affirms the opinion that the original Scriptures of the Old and New Testaments were without error. But this is a subject on which the constitution of the church says absolutely nothing. It is merely the private opinion of those gentlemen who were controlling what the Moderator very suggestively called the present Stage of the game.'

"The Presbyterian Church," continued Dr. van Dyke, "holds simply to the Bible fis it is as her infallible rule of faith and practice. It is the duty of good Presbyterians, if they would be also good Christians, to preach the doctrines and practice the precepts of the Word of God, and leave the unprofit.

"Well," said the Sergeant, looking at the broker,

After again expressing confidence in his former clerk, Mr. White left the statton, as he had to catch the train. Later in the day Birckwood was admitted to bail. The trial will come up to day.

The four-fold entertainment given in the Madison negro minstrels, ballet, comic opers and vaudeville that it did not pay. To-morrow night Anton Sciel's orchestra will begin what is humorously announced as its "annual summer season at the Garden." The humor consists in the fact that this "annual summer season," with such a plausible appearance of being the regular thing, would not have taken place if the composite entertainment had not failed, or if the Chicago Specia-torium, where Mr. Seidl was to play, had not also failed, and furthermore in the fact that Mr. Seidl gave well season" in the Gar'en which ended just two ago. These things, however, will not prevent weeks ago. These bings, however, will not prevent the concerts being giadly welcomed by all who appre-ciate and ediloy the best class of orchestra music, and they will no doubt make the summer pleasanter for many who are obliged to stay in New-York. E. P. FISCHER WINS THE SINGLES.

HE REATS THURRER AND LAWRIE IN THE MAN-HATTAN TENNIS TOURNAMENT.

The scene of action in the Manhattan Tennis As sociation Tournament was shifted yesterday afternoon to the grounds of the Ariel Tennis Club, at Onehundred-and-thirty-fifth-st. and St. Ann's-ave. A considerable number of spectators were present. The men's singles were continued and the winner in Class A proved to be, as was expected, Edwin P. Fischer, of the Knickerbocker Club. He had two hard confests, the first with Thurber and the second with Lawrie. He beat Thurber 72-69, and Lawrie 72-60. This completes all but one of the class competitions, that in Class B being yet undecided.

The mixed doubles were also held. The entry list was disappointingly small, only five teams competing. The contest resulted in the victory of Miss Fulton and Mr. Boyd, of the Knickerbocker Chib.

The scores follow:

INVESTIGATING THE BROWN MURDER. Emma Woods, who is suspected of the murter of Lew" Brown, is placed in bad light by the Patrick Gaynor and Edward Garrity, who are detained in the county jail as witnesses. The police, in securing testimony for the prosecution, learned that Gaynor had been in Thompson's liquor shop, in Brucest, on Thursday night, before the sacoting. Emma Woods was in the place at the same time. She showed a revolver and said she was ready for Brown if he beat her again. She said he had knocked her down and blekel her. Then she waited until Brown closed his place and went home. It Thompson's to Brown's. He was allowed to sleep with Daniel and Edward Garrity. At 2:20 they were awakened by the Woods woman breaking the gla of the door and shouting:

" I've killed Lew!" Gaynor saw Harry, her eleven-year-old boy, with her. He ran up to the house and found Brown dead. He then found Policeman Wrackerman. Captain McManus says that some time ago the woman tried to have Brown arrested for heating her. The Captain bought her a breakfast on one occasion and told her to leave Brown if he beat her. Her reply was that Brown would not give her her furniture if she left him. Superintendent of Police Brown has had a long talk with Harry, the woman's son. The boy told the superintendent the following story.

"I heard mamma and Mr. Brown talking, and jus-"I heard mamma and Mr. Brown talking, and just as I tarned over in the bed Brown struck mamma with both hands and knocked her on top of me in the bed. They stopp d quarrelling then, and I went to sleep again. I don't know how long I was asleep. A pistol shot awakened me. I can't tell what else happened, I was so frightened. I only remember Mr. Brown was lying on the floor."

At this point the boy clasped the superintendent by the hand and began to cry. He exclaimed:

Do you think they will hing mamma!"

Brown will be buried in Fairmount Cemetery to-day, at 3 o'clock.

All the witnesses who te-tified at the hearing yesterday, with the exception of Harry Dietkz, are now in the county jall. The Cooner's jury went to the house in Warren'st, yesterday morning and viewed the body. The inquest will be held to-morrow.

Throwi

was thought would take highest honors, went down in Spanish. One of the interesting features of the present examinations is the struggle of Cadets Ladue and Farden for the head of the second class. The race is so close at present that no one knows with will win. It is expected that at least two will be found effected in the third class and about seven in the fourth. The examinations of all the classes continued to-day without any intermission for the usual saturday review. A crowd of visitors arrived early and gave the officious policemen all they could do to keep them out of the forbidden places. The Eard of Visitors inspected the officers' meas, cadets' meas, and the cadet hospital. They complimented Steward Laily upon the condition of the hospital and its surroundings. Frank Thomson, Senator White and Congressman Bingham, members of the Board, are absent, and are not expected here before Saturday.
